

Attendee Takeaways

Materials provided at this workshop:

- Barry Schneider and Patrick Ellis, editors, Tailored Deterrence: Influencing States and Groups of Concern, USAF CP Center, May 2011
- Office of the Deputy Secretary of Defense for Nuclear Matters, Nuclear Matters: A Practical Guide, (Washington, 2009).
- Lt Col Tasha L. Pravecek, Lest We Forget: A Critical Analysis of Bioterrorist Incidents, National Exercises and U.S Prevention, Response and Recovery, USAF CP Center Monograph, 2011
- Laura E. Peitersen, Cali S. Levin and Allison R. Jones, DOD Response to H1N1, USAF CP Center Monograph, 2011
- Lt Col Michael Kindt and Megan Stans, Public Resilience in CBRN Events: Lessons Learned from Seven Cases, Michelle Spencer, USAF CP Center Monograph, 2011
- Other CPC Publications
- Student handout & CD-Rom with reference material

Cost

The USAF CPC covers the hotel, per diem, travel, workshop cost for one military or government attendee

Who Should Attend?

- PME Faculty and Curriculum Developers
- We ask that your institution select one faculty member who may be assigned to teach relevant WMD
- Security Clearance: Unclassified

Contact for more information:

USAF Counterproliferation Center

325 Chennault Circle
Maxwell AFB, AL 36112

Phone: (334)953-7538

DSN: 493-7538

Fax: (334)953-7530

Website: cpc.au.af.mil

Email: cpc.admin@maxwell.af.mil

Johnny Appleseed

7th Annual "Combating WMD for Military Educators" Workshop

29-30 June 2011

Georgia Tech Hotel and Conference Center Atlanta,
Georgia

Sponsored by the USAF
Counterproliferation Center
and
The Defense Threat
Reduction Agency (DTRA)

Overview

Since the workshop's inception in 2004, it has educated over 140 Joint Professional Military Educators and other personnel on various Combating Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMD) issues.

Funded by the Defense Threat Reduction Agency (DTRA) and directed by the USAF Counterproliferation Center it has been held at the Air War College, Maxwell AFB, Alabama; Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta Georgia; and Colonial Williamsburg, Virginia.

Each year the workshop includes core instruction on WMD basics and introduces new WMD related topics.

Past workshops have included:

- Nonproliferation (NP) Issues
- Counterproliferation (CP) Issues
- Regional proliferation problems such as North Korea and Iran
- Pakistan & India's nuclear concerns

This Year's Agenda

Tentative

Day 1

- 0730-0800: Registration and Breakfast
- 0800-0810: Introduction
- 0810-0850: Understanding the Dynamic Change in the Global Security Environment
- 0900-0950: Weapons Basics I: Chemical, Biological, and Radiological
- 1000-1050: Analysis of Bioterrorist Incidents, Exercises, and Countermeasures
- 1100-1200: Weapons Basics II: Nuclear
- 1300-1350: Nuclear Terrorism
- 1400-1450: Response to Japan's Nuclear Disaster
- 1500-1600: Future WMD Issues

Day 2

- 0800-0850: Iran's Nuclear Ambitions and the Middle East.
- 0900-0950: North Korea's Nuclear Issues
- 1000-1050: Combating WMD Strategies
- 1100-1200: Changes in U.S. Nuclear Policy
- 1300-1350: Tailored Deterrence
- 1400-1450: Ballistic Missile Defense
- 1500-1550: Blue Horizon's 4: Deterrence 2030

Comments from Previous Attendees

"This workshop is necessary to keep instructors up to date on the latest information relating to WMD and in providing an opportunity to have our questions answered by leaders in the field."

US Army, Command and General Staff College

"We rely on the material presented at Johnny Appleseed for ensuring our course material is up to date"

Air University

"It was an informative and useful workshop! I appreciated the opportunity to attend."

US Coast Guard CPO Academy

"It is a valuable workshop. It provides an excellent venue to get updates on the latest happenings in WMD"

US Air Force Academy